FlightWorks Adds Second Long-Range Gulfstream 450 To Executive Charter Fleet

New Gulfstream 450 further expands Flightworks' fleet of luxury business jets. Company continues to increase domestic and international aircraft management and charter services.

ATLANTA (January 19, 2006) – With the addition of another new Gulfstream 450, FlightWorks, a premier provider of aircraft management and charter services, expands their fleet of executive- class business jets. FlightWorks is one of only a handful of domestic charter companies to offer the G450 for charter.

Both G450s are managed and operated by FlightWorks and based in the Southeast. Each jet comfortably seats up to 14 passengers in spacious, luxurious accommodations with the latest in-flight amenities. A range of approximately 4385 nautical miles (5046 statute miles) allows the Gulfstream to comfortably traverse both the Atlantic and Pacific and makes the aircraft ideal for Southern Hemisphere destinations. Each jet is equipped with two Rolls-Royce engines that can achieve speeds up to Mach .88 and cruise comfortably at 450 knots.

FlightWorks acquired management of one G450 in late 2005, and brought the other G450 under their comprehensive management program in early January 2006. "The addition of these new model, large cabin, long-range aircraft to our charter certificate enables FlightWorks to provide our customers with superior safety, service and travel solutions. FlightWorks is committed to meeting the growing demand for domestic and international air charter service," said Scott Beale, President and CEO of FlightWorks.

In the fourth quarter of 2005, FlightWorks increased its fleet by six aircraft. In addition to an expanded fleet, FlightWorks significantly increased the number of hours flown in 2005. With charter demand expected to increase further in 2006, FlightWorks plans to continue adding aircraft to its fleet, as well as developing additional dedicated executive terminals and hangers in key markets.

"The dynamic and global focus of today's business executive demands a level of scheduling flexibility that is ideally suited to the utilization of business aircraft," Beale continued.

"FlightWorks provides on- demand charter, quality-driven management programs, a safety-focused culture, and 24-hour customer service, 7-days a week."

State-of-the-art flight monitoring at FlightWorks' Operations Center provides continual flight tracking and communication with the crew. In addition, a full complement of concierge and ground services is available to FlightWorks' charter clientele.

FlightWorks is one of only four Part 135 Air Carriers authorized for on-demand international service for 10 or more passengers to achieve ISO 9001-2000 status. In addition, FlightWorks has been named a ARG/US 'Platinum' -approved operator and Wyvern Wingman Alliance Partner. Wyvern Wingman Alliance Partners provide customers with the peace of mind of a Wyvern Double-Checked flight. To earn the Double-Checked rating, individual crewmembers and aircraft must meet Wyvern's enhanced safety standards, which are significantly more stringent than the standards required by the FAA.
