FlightWorks Hosts Springfest

FlightWorks Annual Springfest Provides Opportunity to "Meet the Fleet"

Atlanta (April 20, 2006) FlightWorks and Cobb County Chamber of Commerce met Thursday April 20th at FlightWorks McCollum Field hanger for a Springfest party in conjunction with the Chamber's Business After Hours.

The evening showcased FlightWorks' growing fleet of executive business jets, including the introduction of the fleet's newest addition, a Bell 407 executive helicopter.

The event also featured a tour of FlightWorks' executive facilities at Cobb County Regional Airport – McCollum Field and opportunities to tour a selection of luxurious business jets available for private charter. A scholarship presentation was made to Kennesaw State University's Department of Music and students from the KSU Jazz Studies Program performed at the event while guests enjoyed delicious samplings from Tastefully Yours, The Grande at Kennesaw, Doc Green's and Billy Mac's Bar & Grill. Beverage samplings were provided by Woodstock Brewing Company and Continental Beverage Corporation. Fine art was also on display from Frameworks Gallery. In addition to exhilarating aircraft, exciting cars and motorcycles were also on display. Guests enjoyed vehicles from MB1 Motoring, Aston Martin of Atlanta, Mercedes Benz of South Atlanta, Auto Sports of Atlanta, Marietta Hummer, Cadogan Enterprises and Earl Small's Harley-Davidson.

FlightWorks facility at McCollum (RYY) airport offers the utmost in comfort, luxury and functionality for corporate and individual charter customers. The facility, located at Entrance C at McCollum Field, offers many amenities including conference rooms, computer terminals, office equipment and a comfortable lounge. In addition to conference call capabilities and convenient aircraft access FlightWorks provides beverage service, full kitchen, 24-hours security surveillance and secure overnight parking.
