FLIGHTWORKS ADDS FOUR AIRCRAFT DURING THIRD QUARTER OF 2007
Ever-expanding Fleet of Charter Aircraft Nears 30 Diverse Choices for Executive Travel

KENNESAW, GA – October 25, 2007. FlightWorks, the nation's leading general aviation company, has added four aircraft to its charter fleet in the third quarter of 2007. Additions include a Gulfstream G200: N164GA; Citation VI: N400JH; a Citation Ultra N44FG; and a King Air 350: N800BJ.

"As the demands for general aviation and private charter continue to increase, our goal is to build the most diverse and flexible fleet possible," said Scott Beale, president of FlightWorks. "Executive travel is on the upswing and clients are searching for cost-effective ways to make the most of their time as they travel."

Aircraft added in August and September of 2007 include:

- Gulfstream G200: N164GA – Serving the Southeast from its base in Savannah, this brand new Gulfstream G200 is one of the few super-mid-sized aircraft available for charter in the United States. The stand-up cabin offers seating for up to 10 passengers in fully adjustable plush cloth seats. The versatile interior is configured for a four-person conference configuration with additional separate seating for maximum privacy. Traveling at up to 528 miles per hour, it cruises at a maximum altitude of 39,000 feet and has a maximum range of 3,602 statute miles.
- Citation VI: N400JH -- With adjustable leather seats, a dropped floor for stand-up head room and beautiful mahogany accents, this Washington, DC,-based Citation VI offers style, comfort, versatility and seating for seven. With an impressive range of 2,037 statute miles and a cruising speed of 491 miles per hour, this aircraft is perfectly suited to the busy executive. Capable of making regional trips across the country, it has a maximum cruising altitude of 43,000 feet.

- Citation Ultra: N44FG – With travel speeds of up to 460 miles per hour, the efficient Citation Ultra makes it easy to schedule multiple stops in one day. With fully adjustable leather seats and pull-out writing/dining tables, this jet seats up to 7 passengers. Based in the Southeast at McCollum Field just north of Atlanta, it has a maximum range of 1,449 statute miles and a maximum cruising altitude of 45,000 feet.
- King Air 350: N800BJ – This King Air 350 turbo-prop is the ideal travel solution for regional business trips or vacations. With a maximum range of 2,031 statute miles at a cruising speed of 359 miles per hour, it has seating capacity for up to 8 passengers. It is furnished with leather captain chairs, enclosed lavatory and a built-in galley and has a DVD system with flat-screen monitors, pull-out writing tables and CD stereo system. It has a maximum cruising altitude of 35,000 feet.
