FlightWorks Adds New Gulfstream G200 to Business Jet Fleet

New aircraft – the new G200 enhances mid-size category with high speed and long range

KENNESAW, GA – August 24, 2007 FlightWorks took delivery of the latest addition to its fleet, a super mid-sized, custom-fitted, large cabin G200 flown directly from the Gulfstream factory in Savannah, Georgia. This exceptional new jet expands the company's mid-size fleet selection and offers additional charter opportunity in this high demand category. With its balanced performance of high speed, long range and efficient operation, this high powered business jet excels in comfort, economy, range and maximum airport usage with its short landing capability. The new aircraft will be based at McCollum Airport (KRYY) in Kennesaw, Georgia, near the company's US headquarters.

"Families and business customers alike enjoy the spaciousness of this mid-sized jet," states Ron Smith, VP Business Development. "With 15 windows and two seating areas, there's ample room and comfort for long flights, as well as an ideal setting for work or dining."

The Gulfstream G200

Manufactured by Gulfstream, the G200 is classified as a large-cabin, mid-range aircraft. With seating for 10, this aircraft includes a full service, forward mini galley with microwave and coffee service. Boasting a cabin height of 6 foot 3 inches and a cabin width of 7 feet 2 inches, there is ample room for working or relaxing. Cabin comforts and amenities include private lavatory, DVD/CD entertainment system, flat screen monitors, and cabin speaker system with headset capability, AirShow, In-Flight Weather Radar and satellite telephone. The aircraft is equipped with data part and integrated flight information systems. Safety enhancements include RVSM, EGPWS, and TCAS-II. Spacious internal and external baggage compartments assure you will have plenty of room for golf clubs or other recreational equipment.
